

TROY HERALD.

WEDNESDAY, JULY 30, 1873.

BARNEY KNOWS THE LAW.—We heard an anecdote the other day illustrative of the traits of some of our earlier settlers, which is too good to be lost. Shortly after the close of the war of 1812, during which the residents of this county had as much fighting as they desired in protecting themselves against the depredations of the Indians, a worthy citizen, Barnabas Thornhill, grandfather of our townsman, John S. Thornhill, was elected to the responsible position of justice of the peace. In those days disputes were settled according to justice, and law cut no figure in the case. It was not long before the new magistrate had a cause to try. The parties to the suit, the constable and the jury, had all assembled at his house. "With a look of earnestness and wisdom he addressed the parties thus: "Barney (meaning himself) heard a turkey gobble. Barney knows the law; he has been studying this thing over and finds out that it will go d—d hard with both of you. He is going to kill that turkey, and this thing has got to be compromised before he gets back." Taking down his rifle he departed. In order to give plenty of time for the compromise, he stayed away all day. The compromise was effected, and Barney's neighbors acting upon the suggestion he so authoritatively recommended, eschewed law suits, and this was his first and last case.

A WHAT IS IT.—A cow belonging to Capt. Colbert gave birth last Thursday night to a monstrosity. It was a red calf fully matured, but of a most singular malformation. The head is large, face prominent and rounding from forehead to tip of nose, presenting in general view the appearance of that of a rabbit, as does in fact the whole body. Its length from forehead to tail is fifteen inches. The spine at the shoulders is considerably elevated. The caudal spine is closely bent back upon the lumbar, and measures only half an inch in length. The ears are set far back, and the head rests closely upon the shoulders. The legs are small, scarcely an inch in diameter, the fore ones being very short. The hoofs are not cleft. It was evidently born alive, but was dead when found.

THE FARMERS' FRIEND.—Double force feed Grain Drill is ahead of all the greatest improvement of the age, the only drill that can be changed while seeding, without taking off cog wheels; zigzag or single rank; can be changed to sow from one quantity to another without stopping the team. Call and see them before purchasing. Every drill warranted to give entire satisfaction, or money refunded. J. P. LYNOTT, Agent for Lincoln co.

READ THIS.—For a pleasant drink of soda, go to the Fountain at the corner store of G. W. Mohr. He has also just received a lot of Ladies and Misses' straw hats, which he will sell at low figures. Gents and boys' felt hats at from 75 to $1.00; boots and shoes, cutlery, fancy groceries and provisions, &c., all at low cash prices. All those indebted to me must come forward and pay; otherwise their accounts and notes will be put out for collection. G. W. MOHR.

PRICES TUMBLING!—The hard times and the scarcity of money have caused the prices of goods at W. S. Cooper's Novelty Cash Store to tumble down at a rattling rate. Calicoes are selling at from 6-14 to 12-14c a yard. A large stock of new goods just received and ready for inspection. Call and see his goods and inform yourself of his low prices. n24

NOTICE.—All persons indebted to the estates of James H. Segrass and Joshua King, dec'd, on note or account (sale bills excepted) are hereby notified to come forward and pay up, or I will be compelled to sue. JOSIAH CREECH, Adm'r said Estates. n2614

That while we mourn this afflictive dispensation of Providence, we rejoice to know that Brother Shirkey lived as a true and worthy brother among us; that in all his actions he was governed by the principles of our order, and that we have hope he has entered into his reward.
2. That Brother Shirkey, from his zealous attachment to our order, from his constant attendance with us, and from the evidence he always gave that his life and actions were modeled upon the great principles of our order, has left a bright example for the imitation of those who survive him.
3. That in commemoration of the virtues of our departed brother, the usual badge of mourning be worn by this Lodge for thirty days.
